

React App

Tom Bartindale, Feb 2013

A mobile web-app designed help youth educate themselves and their peers in how to deliver Epinephrine properly in emergency situations. The app was deployed by health professionals investigating how technology can be used to deliver and maintain current knowledge amongst this demographic about how to administer a relatively complex medical device.

<http://react-app.com/>

Technologies

- Javascript
- HTML5 Video (and production)
- HTML5 offline application features